Did You Know?

- Declaring how long you have owned livestock on the S0720 NVD provides the receiver of the livestock with an understanding of the food safety and biosecurity risk these animals present.
- When the NVD asks whether you have owned the livestock since birth, you must only tick 'Yes' in response to this question if you are certain that all of the livestock in the consignment were bred by you as the owner or vendor of the livestock.
- If one or more of the livestock are non-vendor bred, you must tick 'No' in response to this question and answer the subsequent question on how long they have been owned for. Alternatively, if the vendor bred and non-vendor bred livestock can be identified and/or separated and the receiver is willing for this to occur, you may fill out a separate NVD for the vendor bred stock and the non-vendor bred stock.
- All livestock consignments to SHRLE must be accompanied by a fully completed, accurate S0720 NVD.
